THE SURRATT TRIAL

DISMISSAL OF MR BRADLEY FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT

BALTIMORE, Aug. 10

A Democratic procession was fired into by a party of men this evening. Four killed and several wounded.

The Times special says. It is reported on good authority that President Johnson, after having signed the death sentence of Mrs Surratt returned it to the officer of the Military Commission with a request that the finding to him that she must be protected against future assassins as well as their victims. This remark, according to my authority, was elicited by the consideration of the recommendation for mercy to Mrs Surratt.

Among the documents on file in the War Department in relation to the trial of the conspiracy is the confession of Atzerodt, who was to have murdered the statesman Colfax. It was in the city of the assassination that Johnny, as he was called, Surratt was in town and occupied a room at the Herndon House.

The financial troubles in New Orleans, which have been partially settled by the judicious management of General Sheridan, are now assumed a new form. Counterfeits resulting in the appreciation of the money issued by the city, so that it is now received only ten per cent discount below green backs. It will probably be removed very soon as speculators here and in New York as well as in New Orleans are making preparations to depreciate the currency again by threatening to commence proceedings against the corporation for violation of the National Bankrupt law in the issue of its notes.

Col. Thomas Adams, who was removed from the office of the Chief of Police in New Orleans, is one of the city officers implicated by the report of the Military Committee and Congressional Committee which investigated the riots of 1866 as leaders of the rioters. It is stated that the head of the police force of one of the precincts made a most murderous charge against the members of the convention, but he received the credit of having saved the life of ex Governor Hahn, one of two other prominent Unionists to whom he rendered assistance.

Postmaster Randall received a letter yesterday announcing the serious illness of Mrs Randall who is now in Scotland and he prepared immediately to join her. He will sail from New York to-morrow.

The court of Appeals decided adversely of the judges of the residence in Yonkers.

Mr E. Dennison, a clerk in the First National of Brooklyn, made a complaint at the Tombs Police Court yesterday against Hackett, a man and family, for throwing him out of the house of ill fame.

Schultz were locked up in Tombs yesterday by Justice Dowling, at the Tombs Court on charge of complicity in the robbery of a porter in Exchange Place in January last, when $10,180 in gold certificates were carried off in broad day light. Both of the accused had possession of some of the certificates and negotiated the sale of the same.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10

The State Department in answer to a request of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs has reported that upon investigation no case has been found, where an American citizen has been tried and convicted in Ireland for uttering Fenian sentiments in the United States.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10

The Tribune's special says. The Cabinet has decided that the President has power to suspend Stanton. The President denies that Grant has opposed the removal of Sheridan.

The Herald's Long Island special says. Ex Alderman Fox, President of the South Side Railroad who was injured here on the railroad last Monday, is still in a precarious condition. He was considerably bruised about the body but its thought he has received no internal injury and hopes are entertained of his recovery. The accident has been unfortunate for the South Side Railroad which was about commencing operations, Mr Fox being the chief manager of the enterprise.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 10

A dispatch from Fort Hayes says. All stock on the railroad beyond here has been driven off by Indians who attacked the engineers and contractors and wounded several men. Several Indians were killed.

Omaha dispatches say. It is reported here to day that six men were surrounded by Indians at Mud Creek three killed and scalped one of them literally flayed alive, the other three escaped. The number of men killed at the Plum Creek affray was six. A man supposed to be a section hand was found five miles north of Plum Creek scalped and flayed. Gen. Augur has gone west to examine personally the position of affairs. He does not think that Spotted Tail's people had anything to do with the late massacres. He attributes the acts to the Sioux and Cheyennes. People southwest of Nebraska still fear a raid and a company of volunteers for defense and Gen. Augur requested Gen. Sherman to authorize the purchase of horses for the purpose. Gen. Sully and Col. Parker report a defiant and warlike condition of things among northern tribes. They demand possession of the country, withdrawal of troops and suspension of railroad construction. Instead of being willing to cooperate with the Government and aid in the effort to induce hostile Indians to withdraw from the warpath. They told Sully and Parker to do it themselves.

There was four fatal cases of sunstroke here yesterday.

The report that Fort Wheaton was cleaned out by combined forces of Comanches and Kiowas is now confirmed on authority of B. M. Shoemaker of the Kansas Pacific Railroad. The gauge of the North Missouri Railroad has been changed from five feet and six inches to four feet and eight inches, and now conforms to the gauge of all roads in Iowa, Illinois, and the Hannibal and St. Joe railroad. Trains will run direct from St. Louis to St. Joe hereafter. The work of changing the gauge of seventeen miles of the road was accomplished in three days.

Three coaches were precipitated into the sea. Four persons were killed outright, though there were many dangerously injured, nearly everybody on the train was killed or injured.

PARIS, Aug. 10

The Turkish Admiral recently forcibly took a dispatch from a servant of the United States Minister, resident here, Edward Joy Morris. It is reported that Mr Morris has since laid the case before the Turkish Government, and demanded redress for the outrage. The reply of the Sublime Porte has not yet transpired.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10

At two o'clock the prisoner Surratt was brought into the court room. He seemed in good spirits. Judge Fisher resumed his seat, the Crier called the Court to order, and Marshal Phillips was directed to call the jury down. By this time the court room was densely crowded. The jury was brought in at eight minutes past one and the jury stated that they had been unable to agree. The Judge read the following letter

To the Hon. George P. Fisher, Judge of Criminal Court

SIR—The jury in the case of the United States vs. John H. Surratt, most respectfully state that they stand precisely as was when they first retired upon entering the room; they are nearly equally divided and they are firmly convinced that they cannot possibly make a verdict; we deem it our duty to the Court, to the country and in view of the condition of our private affairs and situation of our families, and in view of the fact that the health of several of our number is becoming seriously impaired under the prolonged confinement, to make this statement and to ask your Honor to dismiss us at once.

Most respectfully submitted,

Signed by all of the Jury.

After some conversation Judge Fisher ordered the discharge.

The Judge then rose and read the following:

I have now a very unpleasant duty to discharge, but one I cannot forego. On the second day of July last, during the progress of the trial of John H. Surratt for the murder of Abraham Lincoln, immediately before the Court had taken recess until the following morning, as the presiding Justice was descending from the bench, Joseph H. Bradley accosted him in a rude and insulting manner, charging the Judge with having off red him (Bradley) a series of insults from the Bench, from the commencement of the trial, and the Judge disclaimed any intention whatever of passing any insult and assured Mr Bradley that he entertained for him no other feeling but those of respect. Mr Bradley, so far from accepting this explanation or disclaimer, thereupon threatened the Judge with personal chastisement. As he understood law no Court can administer justice or live if its judges are to be threatened with personal violence on all occasions whenever the irascibility of a counsel may be excited by an imaginary insult. The offence of Mr Bradley is one that even his years will not palliate; it cannot be overlooked or go unpunished, as a contempt of Court. It is therefore ordered that his name be stricken from the rolls of attorneys practicing in this Court.

Mr Bradley immediately arose and asked if the Court had adjourned. Judge Fisher said, "It had not sir." Mr Bradley said "Then sir in presence of the Court and assembly I hereby pronounce the statement just made by the Judge as false in every particular." Judge Fisher in reply— "This Court is now adjourned." The Bradley—Well then I will say now. Judge Fisher rising to leave the bench—You can say what you please sir and make a speech to a crowd if you like. Mr Bradley—You have no authority to dismiss me from the bar. The Court—Get out of this. Judges of the Supreme Court. Judge Fisher made a reply which was inaudible to report and then left the room followed by a large crowd of persons immediately after leaving the Court room Judge Fisher proceeded to the street and entered a car and was followed closely by Bradley who entered the car and stepping up to Judge Fisher he handed him a note. Judge Fisher took the note, arose, opened and began to read it. Bradley turned and left the car, around which an excited crowd had gathered. It is understood the note was a challenge. Several policemen sprang into the car and officer McHenry stepped in the side of Bradley while he remained in the car. Bradley passed through the crowd and entered his office followed by several friends belonging to the Bar. A large crowd immediately gathered on the corner in front of his office. After remaining in his office a few moments Mr Bradley came out arm in arm with his brother and proceeded down Louisiana avenue followed by a crowd of friends and curious persons who excitedly discussed the proceedings just transpired. In the meantime, Judge Fisher resumed his seat in the car and continued the perusal of the note while the car moved off. A number of his personal friends had entered the car and a great deal of apprehensions were manifested of a personal encounter between the Judge and the deposed lawyer. The order of Judge Fisher dismissing Bradley has created most intense excitement among all classes. The police are preserving order. Members of the bar are generally bitter in their denunciations of the Judge and have called a meeting Monday morning. They seem to make common cause against Judge Fisher who they openly declare he has disgraced himself by using his official power to resent a personal assault. Surratt was remanded to the custody of the Marshall and returned to jail.

RICHMOND, Aug. 10

Minister of the Gospel of this city held a meeting to adopt an address in reply to Gov. Pierpont's charge of objecting to the restoration of the Government of the United States over the Southern States. We have in no instance exhibited disloyalty in our pulpits or used them as political agencies against the Government, that we have in no instance propagated from them what are termed rebel sentiments that least of all have we, in discharge of our duties, expressed directly or indirectly a hope of the establishment of any other than a Republican form of Government in this country.

PETROLEUM MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE MORNING HERALD, TITUSVILLE, August 10, 1867—10 P. M.

Under the influence of the past two days the petroleum market opened dull and weak and unfavorable for oil at New York. This set the buyers down off and consequently but few transactions occurred. The speculative feeling which was induced by the demand of Friday fell off on the receipt of the advices from Antwerp early in the day, and but little or no angle transactions occurring on speculation. The New York and European markets are now watched with considerable interest. During the day there was some inquiry by Cleveland operators but the prices offered did not seem to meet with the views of buyers. At Petroleum Centre offers were made at $3 00 delivered on the cars and of $3 20 delivered in Oil City. Those oils are now held nominally at $3 40 delivered but there is no market. At Oil City the market is reported heavy with sales at $3 30. On the Stevenson Farm offers were made at $2 90 at the wells. The sales at the wells were 100 barrels on Church Run for the local market, on private terms; 500 barrels on the Stevenson Farm from Patterson & Dickey wells for the Boston market at $3 15 at the wells. The sales made delivered on the cars were 400 barrels on the McElhiney Farm by the land interest for the Cleveland market at $3 15; 1,000 barrels at Miller Farm (on spot) for the New York market on private terms.

The Union Pacific Railroad—Open 125 Miles.

A few weeks since we noticed the opening of the Union Pacific Railroad to Julesburg, 377 miles west of Omaha, and sometime this week we expect to report its completion to Crow Creek, a point 48 miles further west, making a total of 825 miles Fifty miles of the track in addition are graded ready for the iron, and there is no doubt of the completion of the road to the base of the Rocky Mountains early in the fall This company are confident that the whole line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870 The Indians have annoyed the surveying parties and the cutters, who are many hundred miles in advance of the work, but they have a wholesome fear of the population that a railroad carries with it, and all trains run without interruption

The business of the Company has been most flattering The earnings for the quarter ending August 1st were about $700,000, but as the report for the last week in July has not been received the exact fraction cannot be given These earnings accrued from operating an average of not more than 350 miles of road, and after deducting operating expenses, the balance is far in excess of the interest obligations of the Company on the amount of bonds they can issue on that distance It should be remembered that this result is from a way business alone, through a new country, and is not to be compared with the vast through business that must follow the opening of the whole line to the Pacific The success of the enterprise seems to be thoroughly assured, and we can see no reason why the First Mortgage Bonds are not entitled to rank among the best securities The daily sales are now so large that the Company already entertain the idea of advancing the price

Co-operation.

The New York Evening Post publishes an interesting account of the operations of the Union Co operative Land and Building Society of New York, organized to enable the members, who are all laboring men of the poorer class, to become their own landlords, by providing funds for each member to purchase houses, lands and other real estate within a radius of ten miles of the city of New York The society consists of five hundred actual paying members Four hundred and fifty of these are already connected with the first society, with about one million of shares taken—about $2,000 shares paid in

Another society will immediately be formed One thousand dollar shares are now being issued at fifty cents weekly No member is allowed to take less than two shares, equal to $2,000 and up to $6,000 By paying one dollar weekly you can purchase a house worth $2,000, one dollar and fifty cents a $3 000 house, two dollars, a $4 000 house two dollars and fifty cents a $5,000 house three dollars, a $6 000 house, &c

The Cleveland Leader gives some interesting facts in regard to the Alliance (O) Co operative Rolling-Mill "The company was organized in May, 1866, under the co operate system, with a capital of $100 000, which has since been increased to $200,000, $110,000 have been expended on the fixtures and as the foreman and principal operators are co operators in the works, you may feel assured that the money has been judiciously expended The buildings of the company cover three acres of ground, and the work on them was completed by Mr Richard Jenkins the present Superintendent—a man of rare ability One hundred and fifty men are employed at the mill, which has a maximum capacity of working from 12 000 to 20,000 tons of iron per month The specialty of the Alliance Rolling Mill is re rolling iron, and what they call 'coal short iron,' which is akin to steel in hardness and durability"

FATAL ACCIDENT —Last Saturday afternoon a freight train on the Atlantic and Great Western Railway, coming east from Meadville stopped at a small station or switch, near Union, to leave a car or two, when a gravel train, going the same way, run into it at nearly full speed, instantly demolishing several cars and killing a boy about twelve years of age, who was catching a ride on the rear car Exactly where the blame lies it is difficult to say The conductor of the freight train sent back a man to signal the gravel train but either the man did not go far enough back to give the warning, or the engineer of the gravel train did not comprehend, or observe the signal We hope the proper authorities will carefully scrutinize the whole matter and visit punishment upon the guilty party It will be no defence to say that the unfortunate lad, so suddenly deprived of life had no business to be on the train, and had been ordered away from the cars repeatedly, though such we learn are the facts An employee of the road might have been on the rear cars of the train and been the victim instead The verdict cannot be "Nobody to blame," for culpable negligence rests somewhere The officers of the road, Directors or Superintendent, may be entirely blameless in this particular case, but let the careless blundering, guilty man whoever he is be punished, not as an indemnity for the pas—that cannot be stored for—but as an additional security for the future. Upon no one does greater responsibility rest to solve the question of blame, than upon the Superintendent of the road and he should be held to a strict accountability under the circumstances

A DISTRESSING CASE—The Erie Dispatch says on Thursday evening Constable Wood, of Corry, arrived there from that place with a woman, who was committed to jail in default of $200 bail on a charge of deserting her offspring

The woman's story, which is corroborated by other testimony is sad one She is a widow—her husband having died in Buffalo She went to Petroleum Centre in search of employment, and worked in a hotel there She fell a victim to the persistent arts of the landlord, (who is described as a large sandy whiskered man at present somewhere in New York State,) and was then heartlessly turned away About four weeks ago she was received into the poorhouse at Youngsville, and about ten days since her child, a fine looking boy, was born

She came from Youngsville to Corry and laid the child in a conspicuous place and hid herself to watch it, until a passer by seeing it took it up, and then she hastened away going to Titusville But she was however immediately arrested on a telegram from Corry was taken back and had a hearing, with the result above stated The poor woman was sick and suffering, and the kind hearted constable appealed to District Attorney Lynch, who "immediately accompanied him to Judge Vincent, and laid the case before him The Judge released her on her own recognizance to appear

A FEARFUL boiler explosion took place Thursday afternoon at one o'clock at Waynesburg, Pa As the men were engaged in getting up steam at the iron foundry of Mr Daniel Owen, the boiler exploded, blowing out both ends Mr Owen, the proprietor, was blown a distance of twenty five feet, and in addition to the serious bruises received, was badly scalded His injuries are not of a necessarily fatal character A young man named Rinehart, son of Simeon Rinehart, Esq, was thrown against a fence some forty five feet distant His skull was fractured and arm and leg broken His injuries are of a fatal character No other persons were injured by the explosion, although many made very narrow escapes The building was considerably damaged The cause of the explosion is supposed to have been from lack of water in the boiler

"Crocus" at Saratoga—Women in the Twentieth Century.

SARATOGA, August, 1867

Editors Morning Herald

Since my last communication from Long Branch I have been put in possession of some startling facts, which are of such importance that I hasten to place you in possession of the same The means by which these facts came to my knowledge must for a while remain a secret, suffice it to say the source from which they came is very reliable.

The fearful disclosure is this There is to be a Universal Uprising of the fair sex throughout the land, and the entire male population of the United States is to be massacred in cold blood or, else kept under close surveillance, while woman's suffering and abused woman, is thus by the force of arms to take possession of the ballot-box, public offices, and, in fact, all that makes life dear to man, while he will be compelled to eke out a miserable existence as best he can

This fiendish plot has for many months been ripening I accidentally found some papers and manuscripts which divulged the whole thing, and seeing the importance of immediate action, I hurried back to Saratoga to see a clairvoyant, who has done the clairvoyanting in our family for the past twenty years She is one of those remarkable beings not often found outside of New Jersey, who are gifted with second sight She can look ahead, or behind, can read the future, the stars, or anything except the spelling book As I said before, I placed myself in her presence, and after placing a greenback poultice upon her palm, demanded to see the future After anointing her parched lips with a little gruel from a jug marked "gin," she placed a singular looking machine in front of me, called a horoscope, and after rubbing me down with a magic pebble, bade me gaze

This is what I saw It was 1967, and I was in Gotham—but what a change—everything appeared changed Woman had usurped the place of man The Broadway stages were driven by young ladies Policemen stood on the corner as usual, but they were golden haired, rosy-cheeked damsels, and wore immense waterfalls As I gazed, one of them clubbed a stalwart looking man, and dragged him off to prison On the corners and in front of the hotels stood crowds of foppishly dressed young ladies, smoking cigars, gazing upon the ankles and faces of the gentlemen that passed, and passing rude remarks on their appearance Just then my attention was attracted to a couple coming down the street, one was a noble young lady with strength and firmness displayed upon every feature Her companion was a young man who could not have seen more than twenty summers, and whose form was perfection itself His complexion was that of a peach, and when his saucy lips uncurled themselves in a smile, his pearly teeth were visible From the trusting manner in which he look d up in his companion's face, it was evident they were lovers As they approached the corner where stood the female loafers, one of them, an over grown girl of sixteen, stepped in front of the gentleman and placed her card in his hand, With a suppressed shriek, he fainted, but his companion, after laying him out on a dry goods box, seized the impudent young lady and chastised her severely, after which she ordered a carriage and took her fainting charge to his residence

I passed along, and was just in time to see a bevy of exquisitely dressed young men enter Stewart's to do their weekly shopping Calling on an old friend of mine, I found him sitting in his boudoir engaged on some delicate piece of embroidery, while his sister sat with her feet on the side board, reading the Clipper, and coloring her meerschaum As I entered, a delicate blush suffused his features, but the hearty shake of the hand and the "how are you old boy," with which his sister welcomed me—made me feel perfectly at home

Picking up the New York Herald I was surprised at the change in the advertisements, which read as follows

A respectable young man, just landed, wishes a situation as nurse, chambermaid or cook can take care of a baby from its infancy A young man (widower) wants a situation as dressmaker's apprentice A respectable widower, with three small children, wishes a situation as housekeeper Wanted—Fifty strong, active, young ladies, to work on the railroad Wanted—A Book keeper—Must not be over sixteen years old One with curls, and not addicted to flirting preferred Recruits Wanted for the U S Army—None but unmarried ladies need apply Personal—Will the young man with blue eyes who noticed the lady a Wallack's Monday night, please inform her how she can make his acquaintance Wanted—Six young lady bar tenders one to chewing three gardenesses, and a young woman to sing bass

There were many other advertisements of a similar character, but this will do

The Black Creek was still running with but little change in the cast, although the ballet was composed entirely of young men, whose symmetrical limbs created a great sensation

The telegraphic news from Washington indicated a speedy impeachment of the Presidential The 110th Congress were considering the propriety of allowing the gentlemen in the lobby or galleries Everything was changed, Mr Editor Man was nowhere—woman was everywhere Mrs Brigham Young had some forty husbands, the former style of Mormonism being reversed It was with sad feelings that I left the clairvoyant's office The amusements of Saratoga no longer possessed an interest for me But I anxiously await further developments

The Saratoga Races were opened yesterday There was a large concourse of gaily dressed ladies in attendance and everything passed off with usual brilliancy I am about to dough with the watering places besides my landlady has requested me to resign my position as turkey carver at her table She says circumstances compel her to ask this! I enclosed is my answer Simeon's reply to V J

Yours, unconcernedly, CROCUS

ROUSEVILLE, PA, Aug 9th, 1867.

Editors Morning Herald

The Good Templars of Titusville will have to look sharp if they intend that their famous "Saguwatha Lodge" shall continue to maintain the first rank among the Lodges in the oil regions. Rouseville Lodge organized June 28th, with thirty four charter members, already numbers one hundred members, and is rapidly increasing The officers for the present quarter were installed on Wednesday evening last, were as follows

M A. Greene, W C T, Mrs A A Watkins, W. V. T., E. J. Cushman, W S, Miss M. Lyday, W A S, E M Hukill, W F S, Miss Minnie Gray, R H S, Miss Mollie Curtis, L H S, A Irwin, W C, Mrs I A Foote, W T, I A Foote, W. M, Miss Abbie Brown, W D. M, Miss Sarah Skinner, W I G, A C Smith, W O. G, I. C. Galloway, P W C T

Messrs. Hastings and Smith, of Franklin (the latter gentleman being D D G W C T, for Venango county) were present on the occasion, and expressed themselves as delighted with the working of the Rouseville Lodge I can truly say that it is one of the best Lodges in the State. All the officers had their reports carefully and correctly prepared, and the members all seem determined to observe all rules and requirements of the order. We always find those lodges most prosperous where the officers are particular in the observance of their duties We organized a Degree Temple in the Lodge on Wednesday afternoon, with the following officers

I C. Galloway, W D T Mrs Foote, W. D. V T, A A. Atkins, P W D T, E M Hukill, W S, A. Irwin, W C, W G Tyler, D M, Abbie Brown, Ass't M, Mrs D Hays, D G, I B Lockwood, D S, F G Smith, D F S, Mrs A Atkins, D Treas

Last evening in Oil City we organized a Lodge with twenty-seven charter members, and in the evening had a large attendance at a public meeting in the M. E Church Oil City Lodge has a good list of officers among them some of the first citizens It will do well

This evening we hold a public meeting here and anticipate a good time, as this town is heartily alive to the Temperance Reform We hope all goes well with the various Lodges in Crawford county, we hope to visit them ere long

Yours truly, JAS A DAVIDSON

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT —This court, now in session at Pittsburgh, has several cases from the oil regions to dispose of On Thursday, in the case of J L Cone, Rensselaer Bagley and James Higby, indicted for making a counterfeit brand and plate, and using the same at an oil refinery at Shaffer, Venango county, A L Richmond, Esq, of Meadville, and Judge Shannon, of Pittsburgh, counsel for the defense, requested that this case and others connected with it be continued until the October term, on account of a want of time to procure important witnesses The request was granted

A true bill has been found against Alfred Myers, of Petroleum Centre, for passing counterfeit fractional currency and having the same in his possession, also for selling the same—The bill against him for passing a counterfeit twenty dollar note, and three bills against J Scott Wilson, of Armstrong county, for not complying with the law relative to the distillation of liquors, were ignored Among the petitions for adjudication in bankruptcy is one from J H Lockwood of Corry

A SNAKE STORY —The Forest Press says that Mr. Samuel Haslet, while in the woods near Tionesta, one day last week, found himself in the midst of a den of snakes, hissing and writhing at his feet Escape being impossible, Mr Haslet went at the serpents with a club The battle raged for three quarters of an hour, when the surviving snakes sought their holes, leaving nineteen dead rattlesnakes, eleven copperheads and one monstrosity of an unknown species, torn to pieces on the ground The stench was horrible, and Mr Haslet on his return to town was covered with blood and other evidences of the contest It was not a very good day for snaking, we suppose, or Mr H would have done better

Spence's Petroleum Burner.—I respectfully invite the attention of all persons using coal or wood as fuel, to my new invention bearing the above title, which substitutes petroleum, petroleum tar, or other fluid hydro-carbons to produce heat as a motive power. Its successful operation has been demonstrated beyond cavil, as will be seen by the subjoined testimonials from disinterested parties, well known throughout the oil regions The following considerations will commend it to general use First—Its economy It will save from 50 to 75 per cent. of the ordinary expense of coal or wood. Second—Its perfect safety There is no possibility of explosion—the fire being prevented from running back to the feeder by the air blow pipe surrounding the same Third—Its universal application It can be adapted with equal facility and success to all kinds of portable, stationary and marine boilers and in locomotives for generating steam, under all kinds of stills, retorts, &c. Fourth—Its labor saving advantages After being set in operation, such is the simplicity of the process, that it can be run with perfect uniformity with but little attention. It can be so easily regulated as a kerosene lamp, and with as complete combustion Without enlarging further, I give the following extract from my "Letters Patent," setting forth my claims to this specific invention

1st. Providing within the fire-box or furnace, a solid substance or its equivalent capable of receiving and retaining the required degree of heat for resolving petroleum or other fluid hydro carbons, into gases when brought in contact with the same

2nd The within described method of supplying the fuel and oxygen, by discharging petroleum or other fluid hydro-carbons through one or more pipes, having their orifices within blow pipes or their equivalent, when applied and operated in combination with a heater

3d. The use of one or more blow pipes, or their equivalent for the purpose of supplying oxygen and concentrating the heat, when applied and operated in combination with the heater

4th The within described method of resolving and consuming crude petroleum and other hydro-carbons, by impinging one or more currents or jets of the same, upon or against a solid heated substance, or its equivalent, within the fire box or furnace, capable of receiving and retaining such a degree of heat as shall resolve said crude petroleum, or other hydro-carbon into gases.

5th. An apparatus for burning crude petroleum, or other fluid hydro carbons, consisting substantially of a heater, one or more pipes for supplying the fluid hydro carbon and one or more blow pipes, combined and applied for the purposes herein set forth

In conclusion, I hereby give notice to the public of my intention to enjoin all parties infringing upon all or single for of the claims above set forth secured by my Letters Patent.

Seen using one of Spence's Patent Burners at my well, No 3 Bull Run and can recommend it to any one on account of simplicity, safety and economy, in securing perfect combustion O KERSE.

OFFICE OF THE RENSSELAER OIL CO., HEMLOCK, MAY 10TH 1867.

To whom it may concern:

We have had in use for the last ten days, one of Spence's Patent Crude Oil Burners at one of our wells, and find we are saving at least one barrel of oil per day over any other arrangement we could or did get up and deem it a decided success, as far as economy and safety is concerned We were using, previous to using the Patent Burner, from two to two and one half barrels N J TOMLINSON, Supt.

KORNER FARM, May 11 1867

Having used Dr G O Spence's Patent Oil Burner for several days on test I take pleasure in recommending it to all those using crude oil for fuel in boilers, as a perfect consumer of crude oil, producing no smoke and leaving no tar or residuum and creating an intense heat with at least 25 per cent less oil than by the customary mode of burning oil in pans. N H PAYN

OFFICE MCKEEVEY OIL CO, FURSVILLE, PA., May 8, 1867.

To whom it may concern

I have used one of Spence's Patent Oil Burners for the past two weeks, in a 12 horse power Wood, Taber & Morse engine with quite satisfactory results, as regards economy of fuel When properly handled, sixty gallons of crude oil ran said engine twenty-four hours.
